what's a board of trustees?

It's a group of people who have responsibility for a charity and its work. They ensure it does what it was created for and meets its legal responsibilities.

lived experienced of care?

ProjectChange believes care experience is an identity not just a label. It's hard to define due to the individual experiences we have.

We think of lived experienced of care as someone who has lived in one aspect of the 'care system'. You may have a different experience and we'd still love to hear from you, it can a lifelong aspect of someone life.
